ROOSEVELT ON THE RAMPAGE.
Theodore Roosevelt served notice yesterday, in Utica, N. Y., that he would wage war without quarter on the "Old Guard" of the republican party in New York state. Having been drawn into the fight, as he says, against his will, he has determined to pursue it to the end, win or lose.
Mr. Roosevelt's attitude was indicated more clearly than at any time before by a statement which he issued. The statement follows:
"They will have all the fight they want. I am only going to the convention because I feel that the public interests, the interests of the people of New York, demand that the republican party be given a chance to stand squarely and uncompromisingly for clean, decent, honest politics. I go to that convention to make the speech exactly as it had been planned originally, and while I hope there will be enough good sense to prevent anyone opposing the principles for which I stand, yet, if they do oppose them, then it is their own affair and so far as I am concerned the issue shall be absolutely clean-cut."
Mr. Roosevelt said that he was going into the fight with his eyes open and with full realization of the fact that he might not be successful. He said he felt that, on account of the attitude of members of the organization, he was at perfect liberty to carry on uncompromising warfare.
Some of Roosevelt's closest friends in the state have told him that they were doubtful as to the outcome, and he has replied that he himself felt that, even though he should be successful in the state convention at Saratoga and such a platform as he desired should be adopted, the result of the election would be in grave doubt.
Roosevelt has told his friends that he did not feel sure that the Roosevelt-Hughes forces would receive unqualified support from the organization at the polls.
Roosevelt's indorsement of State Senator Frederick Davenport was the first step in the fight which he expects to carry on from now until election time. He decided yesterday to go to the state fair in Syracuse on September 17 to speak, and at that time may talk politics.
He probably will make a number of other speeches, both before and after the state convention.
Vice President Sherman, who is one of the central figures in the struggle, and whom Colonial Roosevelt opposed by his indorsement of Senator Davenport, said emphatically last night that he would not talk about the situation.
Mr. Sherman has been refusing interviews several times a day, and last night he said positively that he would have no statement to make at any time, so far as he could see at present.

JAPAN ANNEXES COREA.
The text of the convention under which Korea is annexed to Japan was communicated at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in Tokyo to the representatives of the powers. The document, which according to now established facts, was signed August 22, will be effective when officially promulgated. This will occur according to some of the ministers, August 29 or August 30, when the independent existence of the Hermit Kingdom the struggle for whose control started the Russo-Japanese war, will cease.
Japan is to maintain the open-door policy in Korea to the "favored nations." She will exercise an administrative rather than a restrictive power over newly annexed territory. This much of the annexation treaty leaked out yesterday in Washington following a visit to the State Department of Baron Uchida, the Japanese ambassador to the United States.
WANT ANNEXATION.
A demonstration in favor of the annexation of Mindanao to the United States occurred at Zamboanga, yesterday.
Two hundred Filipinos had presented to Secretary of War Dickinson, who is now visiting the Philippine Islands, a petition asking that the Moro Islands be placed under Filipino control and the entire archipelago granted independence.
Secretary Dickinson in reply said that the American government was not willing to trust the government of 335,000 Moros to 66,000 Filipinos, living in widely scattered regions. He feared that such a solution of the Philippine question would lead to a rupture of peaceful conditions, when to the Americans would be left the task of restoring order.
Four Dattos or Moro chiefs, representing 40,000 Moros, Zamboanga dramatically tendered their allegiance to the United States and announced they would fight if the Americans withdrew.
A wild demonstration followed and the cry that the province must become American territory ran through the crowd, which had gathered to hear the American secretary of war.

LITTLE BOY MURDERED.

Peter, the four-year-old son of Frank Fabian, an Italian, disappeared from his home, at Porterville, a few miles north of Kingston, N. Y., on Friday last. Hundreds of Italians searched for the boy until yesterday morning, when his body was found cut to pieces alongside an outhouse on an adjoining neighbor's property.
The father went to New York Sunday and consulted a fortune-teller, and when he returned Monday night the father said that the fortune-teller had told him that the boy would return within three days. The opinion now prevails that the boy was kidnapped, and when the kidnapper learned of what the fortune-teller had told the father he killed the child and placed the body where it was found. Searches had Tuesday passed the place where the body was found yesterday morning, also at other times since the boy disappeared, but the body was not there then.

WOMAN SCOLDS BURGLAR.

With a revolver in her hand, Mrs. J. W. Hunt, of Aurora, Ill., scolded a burglar at her house Tuesday night, and then advised him to depart. She suggested that he get some work to do and quit robbery as an occupation.
The intruder listened submissively to the "lecture" and promised to be good. Then he fled into the darkness.
Mrs. Hunt was alone in the house, and from a couch on which she was reclining she saw the face of a man at the window. His fingers were pressed against the bottom of the sash and he was trying to push the window up. She left her couch and hurried upstairs, where she found her husband's revolver. Then she walked boldly down the stairway again.
She had expected to encounter the man in the room where she had seen him at the window. But the room was unoccupied and the window was still down. Mrs. Hunt then proceeded to the kitchen, where she confronted the burglar when he opened the back door.
Mrs. Hunt pointed the revolver at him and calmly informed him that she was not afraid. She told him it would be well for him to turn around and leave the house. She then shook the revolver threateningly in his face—and she avers she even smiled just a little.
The burglar pulled the soft hat down farther over his eyes and did not make a move while Mrs. Hunt continued talking. When she finished her reprimand and advice he said he would look for another job. He then left as requested.
